About A-Day

Delaware Valley University has been opening its campus to the public for this annual event, a favorite for many, since 1949. A-Day is a student organized, three-day fair that benefits student clubs and organizations. This family friendly event is eagerly anticipated by the campus and local community each year. A-Day, which stands for activities Day, Brings the campus and surrounding community together for educational exhibits, competitions, entertainment, fun, and great food. Exhibits and demonstrations. involve a variety of majors at the university.

About Delaware Valley University

Delaware Valley University is a private, comprehensive, nonprofit university educating students with curriculum that emphasizes and requires experiential learning. Located in Doylestown, Pennsylvania, about 30 miles north of Philadelphia, the university offers more than 25 undergraduate majors in life and physical science, business, the humanities and agricultural and environmental sciences; eleven master's degrees; and a doctorate in education. Founded in 1896, DelVal has been cited by the national Society for Experiential Education as having the country's top experiential learning program, by Princeton Review as one of the best colleges in the Northeast, and by College Factual as having one of the top 20 animal science programs in the country.
